Asks For Her Two Children.

Mrs. Lillian Ada DiBenedetto asked the District Supreme Court yesterday to award her the custody of her two children, and appoint a receiver for the property at 246 Eleventh street southeast, jointly owned by her and her husband, Antonio DiBenedetto, so that the proceeds of the rental of the property may be used for her support and that of the children.

DiBenedetto killed his wife's father, Jacob A. Kroon, last November, and is now serving a ten-year sentence. His wife wants the permanent custody of their children and the rental from their jointly owned property is needed, she claims, for their support. Attorney George E. Sullivan appears for the wife.

'Ma" Zappone's Boys Feed Too Well; Not Too Wisely

Many of the 200 boys of "Ma" Zap-one, the modern edition of the old roman who lived in the shoe, had woman who lived in the shoe, had "tummy" ache last night, but what else could have been expected?
"Ma" Zappone—or, to be precise, Mrs. C. R. Zappone—is the "Mother of Walter Reed Hospital" and highous are the wounded soldiers at the hospital. Three hundred of "Ma's" boys were the guests of the Chesapeake Beach Railway yesterday at the bay resort. Heres why the boys had "tummy" ache:
Each, on arriving at the beach, was presented with one-half of a fried chicken, two-thirds of a large pie, three slices of cake, countless sandwiches, and sundry trimmings for a wiches, and sundry trimmings for royal dinner. The 180 fried chickens the 200 pies, and the 30-odd cakes wer prepared by the thirteen Red Cros chapters in Calvert County, Md., th Chesapeake Beach chapter taking th The dinner was financed the Business Men's Association Chesapeake Beach.
